

Tea extracts

Finlays are trusted leaders of the tea industry. Founded in 1750, our rich history and role as leaders in the tea industry means we are trusted partners to the world's largest and most prestigious food and beverage companies. Finlays doesn't just supply tea extracts, they help to unlock long-term value through their proven applications expertise. Whatever your desired application, innotaste and Finlays can work with you to choose the right extract to create the perfect product for your needs. Also organic versions are available.

Cold Water Soluble (CWS) Tea Extracts (Black and Green)

These extracts dissolve fully in cold water for making 'Ready to Drink' (RTD) tea beverages. They are also used in a wide range of food applications.

Hot Water Soluble (HWS) Tea Extracts (Black Available)

The hot water extract is designed for making hot tea beverages – hence the name. Finlays uses top quality Kenyan leaf tea which deliver an excellent full-bodied flavour. Perfect for formulations with milk powders to make 'instant' hot tea beverages, they're also high in the healthy, natural ingredient, Theaflavins.

For its full range, Finlays uses top quality leaf tea for all of its products to produce extracts which can be designed to meet different liquor colour levels and Ph stability.
